One Way for Young Adults

November 7, 14, and 21

This One Way course will take place Tuesday evenings, from 7:30 to 9pm, at St. Paul Inside the Walls
(205 Madison Ave., Madison, New Jersey)

One Way is a unique, intermediate course in discipleship created at St. Paul Inside the Walls for young adults ages 18 and older. This interactive, in-person, small-group experience aims to bring each participant to a new understanding of Jesus and His Church.

This month's topic is "Revelation: God Communicates with His People." The next session for one way will take place in January and will cover "Church: Your Part in the Structure and Mission of the Kingdom."

For more information and to register, visit insidethewalls.org/one-way-registration.

Two Robes
Tuesday, November 14, from 7-9pm

All are welcome to Two Robes: Second Circuit Judge Joseph Bianco on being a federal appellate judge and Catholic deacon. The evening includes Judge Bianco's presentation and wine and cheese social. CLE credits are available for the law community, please see the registration page for details.

Transformational Leadership
November 18, from 10am-12noon

St. Paul Inside the Walls and The Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology at Seton Hall University present this wonderful event for the leaders of the diocese. John Potter will discuss his experiences and learnings in leadership, focusing on defining leadership and leadership styles, offering key behaviors of effective leaders, and breaking down the structure of leadership. He will discuss the additional responsibilities of Catholic leaders and will challenge participants to identify an opportunity within their faith community to lead, and to start developing the structure to take on leadership of a project within their faith community.
